The entire proceeds of the recital will go to the benefit of the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department, an organization upon which depends much of the safety of property in Hondo, and one that is sorely in need of encouragement both financially and otherwise at this time.

Remember the hour and the date—8:30 P. M. sharp, Thursday, August 23rd.

The Cliff Heavy Weights and the Quihi baseball aggregation crossed bats on the Quihi diamond last Sunday, and the Heavy Weights were smothered under a score of 20 to 1. The Quihi Club has a game scheduled tomorrow with the S. P.s of San Antonio. Quite a rivalry has developed between these two teams and a great game is looked for on the Quihi diamond when they meet for their second contest tomorrow.

Mrs. Karl B. Schilling came out from Camp Travis Saturday and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed de Montel here while her husband, Lieutenant Schilling, visits his mother at Wilmington, Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. de Montel and children returned Wednesday to their home at Wichita Falls.

WITH THE DRILLERS.

Schmidt No. 2 of the Ina Oil Co. had reached a depth of 98 feet up to Thursday evening. The driller encountered considerable trouble with a gravel bed that was known to exist but which the driller thought he could pass through without serious difficulty. However, this obstacle has been passed and now it is easy sailing to the cap rock, which will be reached at about 926 feet. After passing through the gravel bed the drill dropped about 36 feet in a brief space of time. It is now thought the drill will go down at the rate of approximately 100 feet a day, and unless obstacles arise that are not anticipated this new well should be sending its output into storage before the first of September. All eyes will be on this well for the week to come and all predict a big producer. The output of this well, and all others to be drilled has been spoken for by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and everything looks decidedly promising for the Ina Oil Company, and incidentally for all the people of this section. The railroad company will lay a pipe line from its tracks to the wells as soon as production is in sufficient volume to justify the outlay.

New drilling contracts; one on the Wilson ranch, about a mile south of Schmidt No. 1, and one on the Louis Mofield ranch, a couple of miles west of the discovery well have been signed up and drilling is to commence just as soon as rigs can be installed. There is a rumor to the effect that a new location some two and a half miles northwest of the discovery well has been made and a drilling contract will soon be entered into, but nothing definite as yet has been given out.

In fact, everything looks decidedly favorable for a great drilling program and before the Christmas tide it is expected at least half a dozen wells will be pouring their liquid wealth into pipe lines.

MARRIED.

Judge H. E. Haass and Miss Mollie de Montel took their friends by surprise and got married Friday evening, August 10, 1923. The ceremony took place at 8:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Pauline Taylor, and Rev. Geo. E. Grueber, pastor of the Lutheran church, performed the nuptial ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple motored to San Antonio from which point they later took the train for Cloudcroft, New Mexico, and at this writing are honeymooning at various places in that interesting western country.

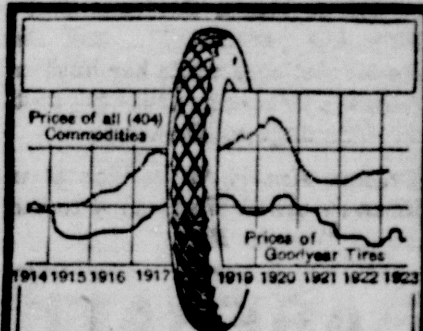

The marriage of two Medina County people never created more general interest than has this one. Both natives of Medina County, they have spent their lives within its environs and are widely known by the people of the county. Judge Haass served the county for many years as County Judge and his bride has been a successful business woman of Hondo for some years, being one of the partners in The Leader millinery store of this place.

The happy couple have the sincere wishes of all who know them for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

G. C. TAYLOR FREED ON MURDER CHARGE.

"We, the jury find the defendant, G. C. Taylor, not guilty."

These words, read by Judge W. W. McCrory, in the Ninety-fourth District Court room shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon were the signal for a suppressed demonstration and brought Mrs. G. C. Taylor to her feet like an electric shock. For it meant freedom for her husband who was placed on trial last Monday for the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, a tenant in his apartment house on June 26 last.

Taylor, himself, overjoyed by the verdict after six days of tortuous suspense sprang to his feet besides his wife and the two of them, their faces showing plainly the emotion they felt, grasped the hands of the twelve jurors as they filed out of the box. Taylor's relatives and friends, legion in number, formed another reception committee along the aisle and the juror's hands were limp when they at last reached the corridor. Seated hand claps, when Judge McCrory completed the reading of the verdict, were quickly silenced when Deputy Sheriff Antonio Diaz called out "order in the court room."

The jury, which had begun deliberations at 4:30 after District Attorney D. A. McAskill closed the argument for the state, announced ready to report shortly after 6 o'clock. Some delay was occasioned by the summoning of state's and defense attorneys and the district judge. It was 6:30 when the jury filed into the court room in charge of Deputy Sheriff Dick Lambert. The verdict was handed over to the clerk by Foreman H. E. Scott. Its reading by Judge McCrory brought to a close one of the most interesting murder cases in the history of Bexar county.

Claim Room Rent Overdue.
The killing of Mrs. Jackson, who was formerly a resident of Dallas, occurred shortly after 7 o'clock on the morning of June 26 at the apartment house of which Taylor was the proprietor at 825 Carson street. It followed trouble between Taylor and Mrs. Jackson, according to testimony brought out in the case, when Taylor ordered the dead woman to leave his place, claiming that her room rent was past due.

Because the victim in the case was a woman, the trial of Taylor aroused widespread interest and attracted large crowds to the Ninety-fourth District Court room. Hundreds of women were among the spectators and they in particular followed every detail of the evidence and arguments in the case. The court room was crowded from the time interrogation of the veniremen was begun Monday morning until District Attorney McAskill closed his argument Saturday afternoon. Even after the jury had retired for deliberation, the crowd still remained, seemingly expecting a speedy verdict and when the jury returned to make its report, the court room was comfortably filled.

Claimed Self Defense.
Taylor, as was the case when officers, in response to a telephone message from him on the morning of the killing, claimed self defense and his attorneys, Chambers, Watson and Johnson, Wilson and Wilson and C. A. Davies builded a magnificent defense around his plea. The State, represented by the district attorney and his assistants, W. S. Anthony and W. P. Mahaffey, made a hard fight to secure a death penalty.

Interest in the case throughout centered in the ownership of a 25-caliber automatic pistol found in the hollow of Mrs. Jackson's arm as her body lay prone on the floor at the foot of the stairway in the Taylor hall. Mrs. D. R. York, with whom Mrs. Jackson spent the night prior to the killing testified that she had seen the dead woman leave her apartment three times that morning on her way down stairs to bring up her effects. At no time, she testified did she see a pistol on Mrs. Jackson's person. Jerome Jackson, son of the dead woman, testified that he had never known his mother to own a gun and that she would not allow one around the house. Another woman with whom Mrs. Jackson had roomed, testified that she had never seen Mrs. Jackson with a gun.

Defense Is Strong.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bowden, state witnesses, however, testified to having seen Mrs. Jackson sitting at her machine cleaning a gun about a week before the killing. A Dallas woman with whom Mrs. Jackson had lived also testified that she had seen a pistol in her possession. Taylor, testifying in his own defense, stoutly denied that neither he nor Mrs. Taylor had ever owned a pistol similar to the one found by Mrs. Jackson's side.

Both state and defense witnesses agreed in the main in the testimony regarding the events leading up to the tragedy. The Bowdens, tenants in the apartment house, testified to having heard Mrs. Jackson make threats against the lives of Taylor and his wife. It remained for Taylor, however, the only witness, to give details of the actual shooting.

He met Mrs. Jackson in the hall he said, on the fatal morning. She taunted him with having failed to have her ejected from the house the night before. He replied that it was not too late, that he was going to the police station that morning. It was then, Taylor testified, that Mrs. Jackson wheeled on him with a pistol in her hand. Taylor said he ran into his bedroom to get his 45-automatic which was underneath his pillow. Just as he reached his bed, he said, Mrs. Jackson, who had followed him into the room, fired at him with the small automatic. She then turned and ran.

Pointing Gun at Him.
Taylor testified that he was greatly excited and badly frightened and hearing Mrs. Jackson's footsteps believed that she had gone to kill Mrs. Taylor. He ran into the hall and saw Mrs. Jackson on the stairs.
"She was pointing a gun at me," Taylor testified. "I began firing and fired until I saw her hand drop. I don't know how many times I fired."
Taylor said he then laid down his pistol and telephoned for the police and an ambulance.

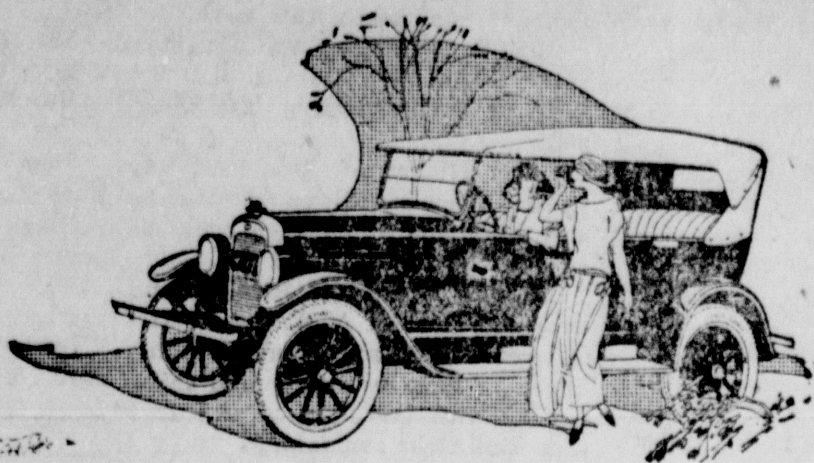

Upon the arrival of the police, according to their own testimony, Taylor informed them that he had shot in self defense.
In view of the importance of the Taylor case and the large number of Witnesses used by both sides, attorneys feel that Judge W. W. McCrory in his first capital case in Bexar county, has made a splendid record for speed. The case was a hard fought one and the record voluminous, made so by the many bills of exception taken by the defense.

The foregoing was taken from the San Antonio Light and is of especial interest to people of Medina County as Mr. Taylor was reared at Hondo, and he and his family have many acquaintances and friends among our readers who will rejoice at his acquittal.

IDENTIFIED.
Rastus, newly up north from Alabama, had secured a job as waiter in a Kansas City restaurant. He felt out of place and moped around, every day getting more and more homesick and disconsolate. One afternoon a customer arrived and ordered bacon and eggs, but when they appeared they didn't suit.

"Look here," roared the newcomer, "what the wah-hoo-wah do you mean by serving my blink-blank bacon in such a zing-bazzled way? I've a good mind to rip your mp-tra-la-la hide off, you ding-dang-dong!"
Rastus beamed.

New Road Should be opened up Hondo Valley.

Some time ago a road petition was circulated asking for a road to be opened from the Yancey road on east line of Jay E. Adams ranch, at "Round Pens" to the Biry road, a distance of some three or four miles. For some reason the road was not granted; or the petitioners were referred back and asked to make some change in their petition, according to Mr. Hardcastle, of the Adams ranch. Now that the oil fever has struck that section and oil rigs are being hauled in and people are going and coming every day, that road ought to be opened. There is no road running north and south, in this section between Black Creek church and school and the Yancey neighborhood, a distance of seven or eight miles.

A double crew has been placed on the I. & G. N. well in town and are running day and night. The drillers are having a lot of trouble with boulders; but have a fine outfit and are going down slowly, now below 1,100 feet.

SUBSTITUTE DESIRED.

Edgar, the 8-year-old son of the house, was as lacking in sentimentality as the average small boy and was particularly annoyed by caresses which his feminine relatives insisted on thrusting at him. One night he was sent to bed shortly after the arrival on a call of a distant connection who, as he was starting to mount the stairs, called:

"Won't you give Cousin Mattie a kiss dear?"

Thoroughly sickened with the whole sex, Edgar turned appealingly to his father and said:

"Dad, for heaven's sake kiss this woman, will you?"—American Legion Weekly.

LADY GOT SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY STAND

After Suffering From Many Female Troubles This Lady Heard of Cardui and Took It, She Says, "Until I Was Well."

"SOME TIME AGO," says Mrs. Buena McFarland, of R. F. D. 2, Bostic, N. C., "I suffered a great deal with weakness common to women.

I had bearing-down pains, my sides and back hurt, and my limbs drew. I would get so weak in my knees I could scarcely stand.

"I was very nervous, and could not rest. I didn't feel like eating. I grew thin, and did not have ambition for anything.

"I had been trying other remedies . . . but did not get any better.

"Some one told us of Cardui, and what it was recommended for. I also took a Ladies Birthday Almanac and read of a case something like mine. I told my husband to get it and I would try it.

"I saw a great improvement after the first bottle (of Cardui), so I kept it up until I was well. Now I am the picture of health."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women. Try it.

We will be prepared to serve you with the very best in all kinds of Cold Drinks and Ice Cream, and most important of all, we will serve many drinks at a material reduction in price.

We cordially invite everybody to pay us a call. Boost us if you can, but if you had rather knock, then do so to your heart's content, for America is still a free country and we want everyone to be happy.

ERLE ULBRICH DEAD.

After an illness of several weeks,
Erle Roswell Ulbrich passed away
Wednesday morning at 1:30 o'clock.
The end came very suddenly and was a severe shock to the family and the whole community. It was the impression Tuesday that Mr. Ulbrich was improving but late Tuesday night his condition became alarmnig and a doctor was summoned. But his efforts were unavailing, as the end came quietly several hours later. All his immediate family was at the bedside at the time of his death.

Erle Roswell Ulbrich was born in Caldwell County, near Riedville on Nov. 27, 1891, consequently was 31 years, 8 months and 18 days old at the time of his death. The family moved to Medina County settling near Hondo. Ten years ago Erle came to D'Hanis. He was married on Dec. 1, 1913, to Miss Zillah Polk.
This union was blessed with two sons,
Lloyd and Claud. Besides his wife and children he leaves to mourn his loss his father and stepmother, Mr.
and Mrs. J. W. Ulbrich of Hondo, two full sisters, Mrs. L. F. Wehmeyer of Port Lavaca and Mrs. S. S. Moore of Carrizo Springs; one full brother, J. E. Ulbrich of Hondo; six half-sisters, Mrs. Guy Newcomb, Devine, and Misses Lois, Lillian, Dorothy,
Virginia and Fern Ulbrich, Hondo;
and two half-brothers, C. P. and Jean Wesley Ulbrich of Hondo. He was a life long member of the Methodist Church having joined in early life and remained a faithful member until the time of his death.

Mr. Ulbrich was a young man of sterling character and possessed many likeable qualities. His farm, one of the largest in this part of the country, required his constant attention and he was known to be one of the most industrious men in the community.
He had recently suffered severe reverses, due to the failure of cotton crops which were practically destroyed by insects, and the sudden drop of cattle, in which industry he was engaged as a feeder. He went bravely ahead to retrieve his losses and was in a fair way to reap a bountiful harvest when he was stricken with typhoid fever. All that expert medical attention, and loving hands and hearts could do to alleviate his sufferings was done that he might be comfortable.

The funeral will occur at Sabinai in the Polk family burial lot. Funeral services will take place at the Methodist church at Sabinai Rev.
Walter Dibrell officiating. Besides his family, he leaves a host of other relatives, friends and acquaintances to mourn his loss.

—D'Hanis Star.

The deceased had many friends among Anvil Herald readers who are grieved at his untimely passing, and who sympathize with his family.
May he rest in peace.

DOES IT PAY TO WORRY ABOUT APPENDICITIS?

Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-i-ka, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which nothing else can dislodge.
One man reports it is unbelievable
the awful impurities Adler-i-ka brought out. W. H. Windrow,

I was often dizzy and black specks appeared before my eyes. My Kid-
